Subject: RE: Salient on Tribe Consultation (by noon tomorrow-thanks!)

Tribal Consultation for UIC Permits – Region 3’s Underground Injection Control (UIC) Program has offered consultation opportunities for 4 upcoming permit actions. The Region offered consultation to the 7 federally recognized tribes in Virginia for a managed aquifer recharge project using advanced water treatment processes to produce a highly treated water for injection into the Potomac Aquifer. Jim Bennett provided an overview of the project to the tribes, during the Regional Tribal Operations Committee (RTOC meeting). The tribes were grateful for the early engagement and the Nansemond Nation has currently requested to be involved in consultation. The Region offered consultation to the Seneca Nation for 3 permit actions in the Allegheny Watershed. The UIC program held initial meetings with the Seneca Nation to discuss the federal UIC program and background on the 3 permit applications. On September 18, 2020, Roulette submitted a UIC permit application for the conversion of one active production well to a class II-D disposal injection well located in the Clara Field in Clara Township, Potter County, Pennsylvania. On December 8, 2020, Catalyst Energy, Inc. (“Catalyst”) submitted a UIC permit application for the conversion of one active production well to a class II-D disposal injection well located near the community of Cyclone, in Keating Township, McKean County, Pennsylvania. On October 8, 2020, Bull Run Resources, LLC (“Bull Run”) submitted a UIC permit application for the conversion of two active production wells to two operating Class II-R enhanced recovery injection wells. The Seneca Nation provided comments on the Roulette permit and has expressed interest in consulting on both Bull Run and Catalyst permits. (James Bennett 215-814-5469)
